'Keep closer eye on your children'

BY ADAM LUKE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

PARENTS of Haverhill teenagers can expect a phone call from police if the youngsters are involved in the increasing levels of anti-social behaviour.

Officers concerned with the continuing levels of vandalism, drunken rowdiness and noise at night have vowed to clamp down hard on the problem.

Persistent youth misbehaviour, previously centred on Strasbourg Square and Railway Walk but which has now spread to the nearby Tesco store and Wortham Place, will be tackled by "inconveniencing" parents to collect their children, instead of arresting them.

Suffolk police's tactics have been backed by councillors who told a town council meeting last week that they did not want to see Haverhill's young people criminalised if it could be avoided.

Pc Will Wright, of Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team, said parents needed to help tackle the causes of anti-social behaviour and take responsibility for where their children spent their time.

Pc Wright said: "I've called over a dozen parents in recent weeks, and 100 per cent of them did not know their children were involved and were shocked to find out."

Thinking pink for a world record cheer

PINK panthers of all ages are getting ready for a world record attempt this weekend.

The cheerleading group, which has classes across the region – including Haverhill, Newmarket and Cambridge – with girls aged from 3 to 16, will try to break the record for the most participants in a routine in one place at one time.

The record of 294 was unsuccessfully tackled by American cheerleaders last year, but the Pink Panther squads are hopeful they can make history at Waterbeach Barracks on Saturday, with a routine to a medley of songs by The Black Eyed Peas, Beyonce, Britney Spears and Girls Aloud.

Annabel Spicer runs the Haverhill troupe, which has been meeting at the Leisure Centre in Ehringshausen Way every Tuesday afternoon for almost two years, and along with trainer Natasha Taylor, Annabel works with nearly 50 children across the age groups.

Annabel said: "The classes in Haverhill have been really popular. The children love taking part.

"We are all determined to break this record and are looking forward to it. We will be meeting all the other Pink Panther groups from across the South East at Waterbeach. The plan is for it to be performed outside but if the weather takes a turn for the worse we can do it inside a hanger."

The youngest class in Haverhill are the Poppets, and are made up of 3 to 6-year-olds. The youngsters were awarded a class mascot bear called Cherry last week for their impressive behaviour and commitment – each week a different member is allowed to take him home and look after him.

The Pink Panthers perform at various events in the area, including competitions, festivals and putting on their own shows which involve street dance, gymnastics and cheerleading. For further go to www.pinkpanthercheerleading.com.

Easter treats are in the pipeline

SUFFOLK County Council is teaming up with two Haverhill children's centres to offer families a day of Easter stories and crafts.

On Thursday, April 14, Tesco's coffee shop will host a free event for parents with children aged 3 to 8 years old, supported by Sure Start's Cartwheels and On Track centres.

A representative from the area's community learning and skills development group will be on hand to read Easter stories to the children and will also be available to offer advice and recommend learning courses for adults. There will also be face painting on offer and colouring competitions in a number of age categories, with each winner receiving an Easter egg donated by Tesco at a prize giving on April 21.

Genny Young, area families information co-ordinator based in Bury St Edmunds, said: "This should be a great event. We are promoting children centres, as well as the importance of reading in young children."

Anyone interested can turn up on the day from 9.30am until 11.30am.

Group in plea for new members

AN ORGANISATION helping to shape the community in Haverhill will hold its annual general meeting on Monday, April 11.

The Parkway Residents and Community Association will meet at Castle Hill Middle School in School Lane at 7pm. Denise Moulds, secretary of the association, said: "New committee members are urgently needed to prevent the association from folding." All residents are welcome from the Parkway estate and surrounding area. The association aims to advance education and provide facilities for recreation and leisure in an effort to improve life for all families living there.

Handbags stolen during burglary

BURGLARS stole a TV, laptop, ornaments and two handbags from a Haverhill home last week.

Offenders broke into a house in Julian Close between midnight and 6.35am last Thursday.

The handbags were dumped in an alleyway behind the home. A suspicious man, described as white, in his 20s, carrying a bag and wearing a bobble hat, was seen running through the estate at around 5.30am.

Contact DS Tam Burgess with any information on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Crash dad on trip for petrol

BY JULIAN MAKEY

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A FATHER-OF-THREE suffered fatal injuries when he hit a tree after accelerating hard to overtake traffic on the A1307 near Linton.

Stuart Woor, 41, had gone out to get some petrol for his Subaru Impreza when the crash happened last September, an inquest was told.

He died later at Addenbrooke's Hospital. The accident happened in wet weather and caused the engine to become separated from the vehicle.

Coroner Belinda Cheney recorded a verdict of accidental death on Mr Woor, of The Green, Thurlow, at the inquest in Huntingdon.

She said: "Having heard the evidence I have come to the inescapable conclusion it was simply an accident."

Accident: Stuart Woor with his wife, Helen. Mr Woor died after his car hit a tree on the A1307 last September.

Mr Woor suffered multiple injuries in the crash, which happened on September 26.

The inquest heard that Mr

Woor and his wife, Helen, had been celebrating harvest festival at church earlier in the day and he had been refitting their cloakroom.

Mr Woor, an engineer for Veolia Water, went out at about 5.30pm to get some fuel for the Subaru, which he only drove once or twice a month.

Taxi driver Lulu Miah said in a statement he was in a line of traffic near the dual carriageway when the Subaru overtook and he was conscious of the noisy exhaust as it went past. He estimated the car's speed at about 80mph.

Mr Miah said the car went around a bend and he then saw smoke and the car, which had gone off the road. Its engine was on the central reservation.

Accident investigator Pc David Paul said the reason for the crash was unknown, but added: "I think it is a combination of excess speed and the conditions."

Police call in parents

■ From Page 1

Police have had to deal with groups of up to 40 12 to 17-year-olds misbehaving on Friday evenings, particularly in the lower part of the Chalkstone estate, leading to numerous complaints.

More than 20 separate incidents of vandalism to cars were reported during March, involving scratches and wing mirrors being broken off, and police believe it to be linked to the same problem.

Sgt Sarah Bartley, of Haverhill police, told the Weekly News: "Anti-social behaviour is one of our major priorities and we have recently had to extend the area we cover. Youngsters are now spilling out onto the railway line.

"It is typically early evening and they are coming from across the town using the railway line as an easy point of access. Many are either in possession of alcohol or are coming out after they have consumed it.

"We are finding that contacting parents and bringing them down to see where the young people are is very effective."

To report any criminal activity, contact Pc Wright on (01284) 774100, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Technology strength wins praise from Ofsted

A HAVERHILL school has received an outstanding Ofsted report for its technology department, and was described as "committed to excellence".

Samuel Ward Academy in Chalkstone Way had a two-day inspection on March 15 and 16, of its design and technology faculty with its management, achievement levels and teaching standards all praised.

The evidence used to inform the judgements included interviews with staff and students, analysis of students' work and observation of eight lessons.

Inspectors were particularly impressed with how the department took students on with lower abilities and developed them into "consistently above average".

The report read: "All students gain GCSE A to C grades and those with special educational needs and/or disabilities make good and sometimes exceptional progress in line with other students."

The best performing course was food technology, where the quality of work was described as "high" with impressive designing and making processes in place.

The report added: "Students are enthusiastic about the subject and their involvement in D&T projects."

An outstanding feature is their achievement of awards such as Active Kids Get Cooking gold awards, and certificates in basic food hygiene."

Teachers were praised for their "expert knowledge of materials and techniques" and behaviour was found to be good, while the school was said to be "committed to excellence" thanks its levels of attention to detail.

The report also stated that the school encouraged students to design and make "products that have an impact on the community", and that they had a good understanding of current health and nutrition issues.

Recommended areas of improvement for Samuel Ward were that electronics was not emphasised enough, and that "insufficient opportunities are provided for students to learn about modern and smart materials".

Inspectors also stated that lesson objectives should be clearer.

Tim Reid, head of design and technology at Samuel Ward, was delighted with the inspectors' findings.

He said: "There are few examples nationally or in Suffolk of outstanding design and technology departments and I am thrilled that we have been judged to be doing so well."

Easter fun set up for children

Sports dream taking flight

DREAMS for an indoor sports performance facility in St Edmundsbury could soon become a reality.

A young Haverhill entrepreneur behind the project is closing in on a site and funding for the £2.8 million development.

Paul Graham of Quendon Place, Haverhill, told the Weekly News that his project to build a regional training centre to improve the performance of elite athletes, support clubs developing young talent, and accommodate schools to increase awareness and inspire children, was developing well.

The 25-year-old former sports science student, who has lived in the town all his life, has decided that the centre will work best placed in Bury St Edmunds, but that the benefit for Haverhill and the area will be "huge".

Mr Graham said: "It will have maximum impact if it is in Bury - it is the geographical centre of the east and can benefit more people in the region.

"Our strategy is to have absolute coverage for at least 20 miles, so that would certainly include Haverhill, its clubs and its schools. It will be a fantastic opportunity for everyone in Haverhill and the rest of eastern England because there isn't anything like this for miles.

"A centre like this is well overdue for the whole of the east of England. The nearest one is in London. All we have in the region is gyms, athletics tracks in Ipswich and Bury and then small stadiums. Sport England has said itself that we need better facilities and I want to make that happen."

Mr Graham, along with his father, Mick, has picked out the Packaging House in Western Way, Bury St Edmunds as an ideal site for the centre. It is currently unoccupied and is up for sale for £1.5 million.

He said: "There are two buildings with a very large car park which would be ideal. We are going for a meeting on April 6 to see if we can take it further."

Mr Graham, who currently works for Real Bodies Health and Fitness in Hollands Road, also said that he has secured funding from one unnamed source for the development and is holding meetings with other interested parties, including St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

The facility, which is primarily focused on athletics and football but is very flexible in its design, will include a 200-metre indoor athletics track, an 80-metre sprint track, five-a-side football pitches, changing accommodation, a gym and spectator seating for 500.

It is hoped that if it is supported, the centre will become home to a number of west Suffolk sports clubs, including the West Suffolk Athletics Club, and will become a hub for the legacy of the 2012 Olympics.

Mr Graham added: "It is still early days but the plans are developing well."

No town cash for new rails

HAVERHILL town councillors have refused to help fund new railings for The Pightle and Lords-croft Lane.

Suffolk County Council had come forward with a plan to replace the old railings and asked if the town council would contribute.

But councillors said that money had been contributed towards new railings from the Tesco development, and that St Edmundsbury Borough Council had received cash from the supermarket giant at the time the store was built.

Town clerk Gordon Mussett told the Weekly News that the county council had informed them it intended to replace the railings which were "in a poor state of repair", but that they were not prepared to help pay for them.

He said: "We would welcome their installation because they are needed but it is not our responsibility."

The replacements will protect pedestrians on the pavement from a considerable drop into the Stour Brook.

Make furry friends at zoo's 'lemur-land'

HOLDING hands with a lemur is still possible every weekend and throughout the Easter break at Linton Zoo.

Following the incredible success of the attraction's "VIP lemur tours" during the February half-term holiday, in which visitors came face-to-face with the animals, they are again being offered in the coming weekends and over Easter by keepers.

The money raised through ticket sales will go towards protecting the mammals from the threats of hunting and forest destruction. At the end of half term, £1,240 was presented to Gary Batters, of The Lemur Conservation Association.

Kim Simmons, who works at Linton Zoo, said the extension of the tours will allow thousands more pounds to fund conservation projects for lemurs and other endangered species, while educating visitors on the importance of this work.

She said: "All of the money raised will go directly to lemur conservation projects which we support and fund, and already wild lemurs are beginning to positively benefit from the cash raised at Linton Zoo."

"This is a fantastic opportunity to take part in an inspiring and unforgettable experience."

The VIP package involves guests taking a behind the scenes tour at the zoo's Rare Lemur Breeding Centre, meeting the keepers and getting up close and personal with the monkeys.

Numbers are limited and booking is recommended. For more information, and to book, visit www.lintonzoo.com.

Measures to get rid of bikers

ILLEGAL riding of motorcycles in and around a popular Haverhill open space is set to be tackled thanks to a £4,950 grant from the West Suffolk Community Safety Partnership.

Work has begun on a project, backed by St Edmundsbury Borough Council, to improve the safety of Puddlebrook playing fields where joy riding on dirt bikes has been a persistent thorn in the side of nearby residents and park users.

The problem has got worse in recent months after the new Clements Primary School was built on a section of the playing fields.

The borough council has worked with police to deter unwanted access to the site and publicise the consequences of illegal use.

Knee-high metal railings and squeeze barriers are being installed, with pupils from Clements School helping with the planting of thorn hedging. St Edmundsbury Borough Council's Parks Service is providing the maintenance and monitoring.

The police will continue to publicise the campaign to confiscate and crush illegally used motorbikes.

Students show off culinary potential

STUDENTS in Haverhill have launched a new bistro to hone their cooking and enterprise skills.

The Castle Manor Young Chamber Bistro opened for business on Tuesday at the college, and allows students to practise the knowledge and skills they have gained on their catering courses by working in a business environment.

Catering students will sell hot meals to their student peers two lunchtimes a week at the recently completed bistro, conveniently situated next to their teaching room and off a main corridor in the school.

A proportion of the profits from the bistro will go back into the Young Chamber of Commerce to help it become increasingly self-funded and able to take on new projects in the future. The rest of the profits will be reinvested in the bistro.

Sarah Howard, chairman of Haverhill Chamber of Commerce, said: "This is a fantastic achievement for Castle Manor

Business and Enterprise College and students who are part of the Young Chamber.

"The Young Chamber was set up to promote links with business, raise aspirations and employability skills, and bring the youth voice to the fore in local issues to Haverhill."

The bistro is primarily run and catered for by Year 10 and 11 BTEC catering and hospitality students, but the school intends to involve the wider school community through taster sessions.

Matt Bryant, business and enterprise leader at Castle Manor College, said: "It is great to see the work of many enterprising members of the Young Chamber, past and present, come to fruition and provide a way for greater numbers of their peers to develop the knowledge, skills and aptitudes they will need to be successful in their future.

"The opening went really well and I have had a lot of messages of praise for the students' efforts.

"The students involved with the Young Chamber have really enjoyed setting it up and I'm sure it will greatly benefit them in their studies."

Mr Bryant added that he is already drawing up plans for a project that would offer different foods from different countries to pupils at the secondary school.

Dive in and help raise charity cash

SWIMMERS in Haverhill are invited to enter a swimathon in aid of Marie Curie Cancer Care next month.

Those already signed up will challenge themselves to complete a 5, 2.5 or 1.5 kilometre swim, either individually or as part of a team.

The annual event, staged on Sunday, April 10, will take place at 575 pools nationwide. More than 22,000 swimmers will be aiming to beat the £2 million raised last year, which funds the work of more than 2,000 Marie Curie Nurses across the UK.

Haverhill Leisure Centre in Lord's Croft Lane is hosting one of the events from 10.30am until 1.30pm.

Struan Banfield, assistant manager at Haverhill Leisure Centre, said: "We hope that people of all swimming abilities will join in for this great cause."

"The swimathon has become something of an annual event here in Haverhill and if you cannot make it along to the pool on April 10 then don't worry – you can also register for SimplySwim, a challenge which allows you to swim your own chosen distance at the pool at your chosen time."

To enter, register online at www.swimathon.org or call 0845 367 0036.

Love message wins top prize

BY ADAM LUKE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A HAVERHILL woman has won a national competition after she penned the perfect message for a Mother's Day card, inspired by her mum's battle with cancer.

Dee Newman, of Mount Road, Haverhill, triumphed in the nationwide competition run by Hallmark Cards, fighting off thousands of contributions including efforts from celebrities Holly Willoughby, Levi Roots, Greg Rusedski and Rosemary Conley.

Dee's winning message will be turned into a Mother's Day card and sold nationwide to support breast cancer charities.

The competition was launched as part of Hallmark's annual Cards for a Cure campaign, which every year supports breast cancer charities to fund vital research into the disease.

The British public was urged to get creative and express in less than 140 characters why their mum means the world to them,

And the winner is...

"She is everything a mum should be – brave, caring, loving, patient, generous and mine."

– Dee Newman

and Dee's note was among the most 'liked' message posted on a virtual Mums' Wall, specially made for the competition.

Dee's message to her mother Doreen Jones simply read: "She is everything a mum should be – brave, caring, loving, patient, generous and mine."

Dee, who works in accounts and administration at Beaphar in Homefield Road, Haverhill, said winning the competition was very emotional.

She said: "It's always lovely to tell my mum how much I love her, but it seems so much more emotional too when you share that message with other people."

"My mum was diagnosed with breast cancer six years ago and now lives with bone cancer, so raising awareness of the disease is very important to me."

"I was very happy to win and hope when people see my message they might think along the same lines about their mother."

Dee's message will be accompanied by four other favourites and made into a card to go on sale in time for Mother's Day next year. Tamsyn Johnston-Hughes, from Hallmark Cards, said: "I would especially like to thank Dee for taking part in the competition and for sharing her story."

"I'm sure her message will touch many of us and bring happiness to any mums who receive it on their Mother's Day card."

People can view entries at cardsforacure.hallmark.co.uk, where the wall will remain open for messages until Mother's Day on Sunday.

Shopping habits must change

Sir, With reference to the story in the Weekly News last week – “We want the big name stores now” – Alan Caldwell, vice-chairman of Haverhill Chamber of Commerce is absolutely correct when he says: “Having an M&S store would be great for Haverhill, if you don’t have the big names like M&S people tend to head to the bigger shopping centre where they are. It’s all about getting the right balance, big shops generate footfall, but we also need to support smaller stores.”

We have a good selection of shops at the cheaper end of the market, like Peacocks. Would Primark give shoppers variety that is needed? We need a balance catering for the different ends of the social spectrum, not just one demographic.

M&S and River Island would be the right way to go in uplifting the town’s image and long-term future. Price point is so important to Haverhill shoppers and the big name stores would be hard pushed to find a sustainable market that would be profitable for them.

Unfortunately some people are very vocal with what they want when surveys are taken, but from experience they will not support them when they arrive, saying they are overpriced or too expensive.

We do need to increase footfall. Before opening @itude menswear, we talked to one of the managers of Next retail in Cambridge, who mentioned that they had looked at Haverhill and had researched the footfall. They found that the footfall would not be sufficient to open in Haverhill.

We need to change people’s shopping habits and encourage people who live in and around Haverhill to shop in town before they go to Cambridge or Bury St Edmunds.

We opened the @itude menswear shop six months ago, and we are still seeing people come in that only pop into town every six months or so, perhaps to give blood or a one-off like waiting for cars to be serviced.

Current retailers need to encourage a greater footfall. Why do we still have shops closed on Wednesdays? Let’s encourage people to shop all week. We all need to work together as a community and use the facilities we have. Getting the big name stores on board will take time and effort from everyone in the community.

If we want the benefits in a few years’ time we need to support Haverhill town centre now. People need to change their shopping habits and be encouraged to buy local.

Drag town into 21st century

Sir, What this town needs is a centre we can “mooch” around. There are not really any shops at the moment in the centre that you would just go into for a browse and a spur-of-the-moment purchase.

I go to Cambridge for just that reason. Our town centre is OK if you need the bank, fast food, second hand goods or Last week’s Memories photograph, from our archives, showed the winners of a hairdressing competition. It was taken in March, 1989. Rachel Sibley had no trouble identifying the picture. She said: “Oh my days – what a shock! The picture in this week’s issue was taken in David Francis hair salon, roughly about 1988/1989. “The people are myself, Sarah Whittle and Suzanne Phillips.”

“I had won first place in the second year hair competition at West Suffolk College. Sarah Whittle came third in the beauty section and Suzanne Phillips also won first place in the first year hair competition. “I can promise you that neither Suzanne nor I wear that much hairspray any longer! We are both still in Haverhill but I don’t know where Sarah is.”

the bookies but a browse around Iceland just doesn’t do it for me. Please, please, please drag this town into the 21st century. We have a great new Tesco, a great new cinema complex and new sports facility so why are people so intent on holding Haverhill back? We need to look realistically to the future – Haverhill is growing by the day but you certainly couldn’t accuse it of being up and coming. It feels dead at the moment but it is not too late to breathe new life into it. The small shops in town would benefit as more people shopping locally would mean more business. Surely this is obvious. Enough debate, we need action now.

Jane Jamieson
Haverhill

■ LAST week the Weekly News reported that Haverhill shoppers wanted big name stores like Primark and BHS in the town, after a survey of more than 1,000 people was carried out in the town centre. We would like to make clear that the survey was not organised or paid for by Haverhill Town Council, and would like to apologise for any confusion caused. Gordon Mussett, town clerk, said: “While we would support initiatives to attract additional retailers to town, and indeed fund initiatives to increase visitor footfall in the town centre we have no connection with this survey at all.”

School visit was so delightful

Sir, I’d like to thank the pupils and teachers at Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College for making me feel so welcome during my visit on March 22.

It was a real delight to see the children get so involved in the Sky Sports Living for Sport scheme, delivered in partnership with the Youth Sport Trust, and hear from the kids themselves just how much of a positive impact the initiative has had on their lives. In my role as athlete mentor for the Sky Sports Living for Sport scheme I am privileged to meet with young people, like the pupils I met at Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College, and share in their journey towards achieving their dreams and ambitions. I would like to take this chance to congratulate the students for their hard work and urge them to keep focused on achieving their goals. Sports had a huge impression on me when I was growing up, and taking my story to schools to explain how the skills you learn through sport can be transferred to other areas of your life is a huge buzz.

Band deserves congratulations

Sir, Please may I take this opportunity to congratulate the Haverhill Silver Band on their recent triumph at Stevenage. The band won first place and has qualified for the national finals, which will be held in Cheltenham in September. On behalf of the Haverhill Town Council I would like to wish them all the success they deserve as, I’m sure, do the people of Haverhill. We are all very proud of you!

Jail for man who raped schoolgirl

BY ALICE HUTTON

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A COMPUTER expert who raped a schoolgirl has been jailed for more than five years.

Phillip Skinner, 60, was sentenced to a minimum of five years at Ipswich Crown Court last Friday for the sex attack on the Haverhill girl when she was 14.

Skinner, who ran a business premises in Hollands Road, Haverhill, had denied the offence but was found guilty by a jury last month.

During the trial it emerged that Skinner and his business partner, Jason Cutts, 43, had watched each other having sex with the girl on a sofa between December 2005 and November 2006 after being introduced to her by Cutts.

Judge Roderick Newton told Skinner, of Kitchen Hill, Bulmer, near Sudbury, that he would only be released when the authorities were satisfied that he no longer posed a danger to young girls.

Skinner, who had served a previous prison sentence for possession of child pornography, was also made the subject of an indefinite Sexual Offences Prevention Order and told he must sign the Sexual Offences Register.

Judge Newton said the offences for which Skinner was being sentenced were of "extreme seriousness".

Last month, Cutts, of Birdwood Road, Cambridge, who appeared alongside Skinner at the trial, was jailed for a total of 17 years after being convicted of six offences of rape, two of indecent assault, 13 of making indecent images of children, one of possessing an indecent image of a child and one of distributing an indecent image of a child between March 2001 and November 2005.

Skinner admitted he was attracted to girls aged between 11 and 14 and enjoyed viewing indecent images of them, but denied ever having sex with a girl of that age.

He also denied prosecution claims that he had offered to pay Cutts for arranging for him to have sex with the girl.

Martial artists show off skills

MEMBERS of a Haverhill martial arts club overcame their nerves to perform at an examination grading in Cambridgeshire last week in front of an esteemed guest.

Five fighters from the Haverhill Tang Soo Do Korean Martial Arts Club took part in the upgrading event on Saturday in St Ives in front of the 74-year-old 10th Dan Grand Master Lee Kang Uk.

The Korean martial art is a form of Japanese karate and aims to develop every aspect of self, in order to create a mature personality which totally integrates intellect, body, emotion and spirit. This is believed to help create a person who is free from inner conflict and can deal with the outside world in a confident manner.

Craig Phillips, a second Dan black belt, said: "We had a number of students from the Haverhill's Do Jang put forward for grading."

"The students have been training very hard on their forms (hyungs), fighting (dae ryun) and self defence (ho sin sul) in preparation for their grading examination.

"It has been very rewarding to see our new members successfully complete their first grading. They have done the Haverhill Do Jang proud, with their focus and spirit."

Classes run at the Leiston Community Centre in Leiston Road, Haverhill, on Tuesdays from 7pm and on Thursdays from 6.30pm. The first lesson is free. For more information, visit www.whatsongb.co.uk/tsd/index

1000th friend signs on

A FACEBOOK milestone has been reached by a local charity.

The Bury St Edmunds-based hospice cares for patients with terminal illnesses and their families across the borough, and uses its Facebook page to pass on clinical messages and promote fundraising events.

Ian Norris, community fundraiser, said: "We're really pleased to have hit the 1,000 mark - but we would still like more members."

On Facebook, search for St Nicholas Hospice Care and click "Like".

Leisure centre plans for a bumper Easter

At last, it's spring and life in Haverhill is hotting up, with plenty of activities planned.

In the Plaza (the new open space beside the leisure centre) on Saturday, April 16 there will be face painting for children, followed by demonstrations from Wash Sailability and the Cambridge-Sushi company on Saturday, April 23. Community groups and businesses can also use the Plaza. To book the Plaza, please contact me.

■ Haverhill Leisure Centre is running lots of activities over the Easter break, including a Schools Out Holiday Camp, multi-activity sessions for 5 to 7 years, free activities for children in East Town Park and an Easter Extravaganza Family Fun Trail on Wednesday, April 13 from 11 to 3pm. Call (01440) 702548 to find out more.

■ Following very

As part of her monthly column in the Weekly News, town centre manager Tina Hanks talks about the upcoming activities in Haverhill – and offers a gentle reminder about the problems drivers face if they don't move their cars before the Queen Street gates close during the day!

positive feedback from people in Haverhill, Job Centre Plus will continue to run its bus providing free advice and support to anyone wanting to start a business, from 9.15am to 3.45pm, on alternate Fridays in the High Street, opposite Market Square. No need to book – just turn up.

■ Community organisations can download 135 wonderful new images of Haverhill people and places from www.cb9haverhill.co.uk free of charge, to promote the town. There is also a small supply of postcards, so contact me if you would like some.

■ Thanks to all those people who completed the Census on paper or online. Why does it matter? Because for every person included in the Census form, the local authority gets about £750 from the Government. So by filling in the form, you can help obtain funds for Haverhill.

■ There are a few tickets remaining for the business event of the year – Haverhill Chamber of Commerce Business Awards 2011 on Saturday, May 14 at Chilford Hall in Linton. Go to www.suffolkchamber.co.uk/haverhill and follow the Business Awards link.

■ A gentle reminder that the Queen Street gates close at 10am so you need to be driving away before that – don't leave it until the last minute!

If your vehicle is in Queen Street when the gates close, it will have to stay there until re-opening at 4pm.

Councillor attacks county chief critics

A COUNTY councillor has accused newspapers of a "vendetta" against Andrea Hill, the £218,000-a-year chief executive of Suffolk County Council.

Cllr Bill Sadler, who represents Newmarket and Exning on Suffolk County Council, spoke out about the controversy at a meeting of Newmarket Town Council.

He was commenting on newspaper reports which revealed that Mrs Hill had spent £14,000 on a "life coach" for herself and other council staff and £1,400 on photographs of her as well as councillors and other senior staff.

Cllr Sadler, a former chair-man of the county council and a member of the controlling Conservative group, said the "vendetta" had been started by a newspaper in Ipswich.

He claimed the news-paper had

Under fire: Suffolk County Council chief executive Andrea Hill.

more than that paid to Prime Minister David Cameron.

But Cllr Sadler said: "She is good. She earns her money. She has saved £43 million in her first year and has introduced the 'new strategic direction'."

The new strategic direction for the council includes "divesting" itself of some functions which it hopes to pass on to community groups and charity organisations.

The GMB union revealed that more than 550 jobs were cut at the county council between the first and third quarters of 2010.

But Cllr Sadler said: "She was appointed to do a particular job."

"I've been in local government on and off since 1966 and I've never met anyone as efficient as she is. She doesn't deserve the opprobrium she's getting."

Photographer Chris snaps natural and modern world

HAVERHILL-based photographer Chris Warnes will be displaying his latest work at the town's arts centre next month.

The exhibition, which runs throughout April, is called Insight and Mind and features an eclectic mix of around 20 prints of photography and digital art depicting wildlife and nature, as well as the modern world.

Chris, of Roman Way in Haverhill, started taking photography seriously four years ago and became a regular photographer snapping play in action at Haverhill Cricket Club.

He said: "My photography is a personal perspective on the modernism of the world but also its natural beauty and diversity."

The exhibition will be housed in the ground floor foyer area of the Haverhill Art Centre, High Street, and is free to visitors.

It will be open Monday to Saturday, from 10am-4pm, throughout April.

'Freeze on tax' delight

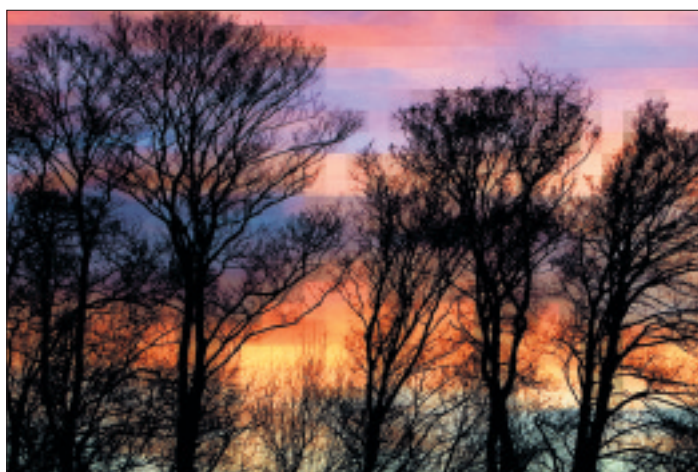

HAVERHILL'S MP has welcomed the news that St Edmundsbury Borough Council has agreed to freeze council tax rates.

Matthew Hancock, West Suffolk Conservative MP, said the freeze, which will take effect from tomorrow, could save the average household £71 a year.

Mr Hancock said: "I am delighted that Conservative district councils across Suffolk are freezing council tax from April 1.

"In these difficult economic times, every pound makes a difference to families, and so I am pleased that St Edmundsbury is doing what they can to help.

"This saving, along with the penny off fuel for motorists contained in the Budget, will help people with the cost of living across West Suffolk, and I welcome the news."

Accountancy firm bags top city site

ACCOUNTANTS Paul Donno & Co Ltd will be opening a new office in Haverhill as from Friday, April 1.

The office, located at the Menta Business and Training Centre at 2 Hollands Road, Haverhill will be open Monday to Friday from 9am - 5.30pm.

Michael Ford, who has been working for Paul Donno & Co Ltd at their Glemsford office since 1996, will be running the new office. Michael is a fellow member of the Association of Accounting Technicians (AAT) specialising in Management Accounts. With a wealth of experience and expertise gained over 20 years in the profession, Michael can assist with all types of enquiries and will be supported by the team at the Glemsford office.

Paul Donno explains the rationale behind the investment in Haverhill: "This is a big step for Paul Donno & Co Ltd. While we have had office facilities in Haverhill for several years we did not have a full time member of staff based in the town. We have previously used our Haverhill facilities as a base for client meetings, so it has been more about convenience than anything else.

"The investment in the office at the Menta Business and Training centre is a key part of our growth strategy. The company has continued to grow over the last two years taking on new clients and an additional member of staff. This growth has been achieved despite the economic climate and has given us the confidence to expand our service offer into Haverhill on a more permanent basis.

"We recognise the commercial opportunities in the town and are keen to ensure that Paul Donno & Co Ltd is well represented and accessible.

"With the planned new housing development in the town the population is forecast to increase dramatically. Combined with the proposals for investment in the Haverhill Research Park and the Hamlet Green site there is a lot to be optimistic about. We can see the potential that Haverhill has to offer."

Michael Ford will be joined by Andrew Fish from Fish4Financial Independent Financial Advisors who will offer wealth management advice to complement the full accountancy and business advice services provided by Paul Donno & Co Ltd. Both companies offer a free initial, no-obligation consultation if you would like to find out more about their services.

College chief gets role with chamber

BY ADAM LUKE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A REPRESENTATIVE of one of the region's largest apprenticeship providers has joined the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce committee.

Martyn Wagner, vice-principal of West Suffolk College, which has a learning campus in Haverhill's High Street, said he was delighted to be joining the forum.

West Suffolk College offers more than 1,000 apprentices, as well as training for around 1,400 employers to more than 3,000 staff – a significant number of which are in Haverhill and the surrounding area.

Mr Wagner, a former governor at Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College in the town, said: "I am very pleased to be joining the committee, the chamber run excellent events and it is an excellent forum for engaging with business for mutual benefit."

Sarah Howard, chairwoman of Committee: West Suffolk College vice-principal Martyn Wagner.

Haverhill Chamber of Commerce, said: "We are delighted to welcome Martyn to our committee."

"Martyn has worked with local employers before and has developed the college's Haverhill Learning Centre. He has a knowledge of the area and a desire to see enterprise continue to grow and thrive for the benefit of the local community.

"Also, many of the West Suffolk College's full time students live in the Haverhill area."

Affiliated to Suffolk Chamber of Commerce, Haverhill's branch provides access to a full range of networking events and key services for its members, offering support and advice to local businesses.

Mr Wagner will join fellow committee members Alison Bowyer of Abbeycroft Leisure; Matt Bryant of Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College; Alan Caldwell from Stevens Solicitors; Justin Friend of Amicus Financial; Rob Maidment from Suffolk Development Agency; Marian Merch-Chammon from Samuel Ward Academy; Ipswich Building Society's Paul Millar; Donna Revell from The Days Inn, and Sue Warren of Simply PR.

Write a rhyme – if you've got the time

WORDSMITHS have been challenged to produce their finest verse in an effort to become Haverhill's poetry champion.

One poet will be chosen from every town in the United Kingdom to have their work published in the National Poetry Anthology later this year.

The nation's largest free annual poetry competition is open to entries, and the winner will receive a free copy of the anthology with their poem in it. The best of all the works in the book will win £1,000.

Peter Quinn, the work's editor, said: "The National Poetry Anthology is designed to encourage new writers."

"It has rocketed in popularity and we expect the new one to be even better."

To enter, send three unpublished poems on any subject – up to 25 lines and 160 words for each – to United Press Ltd, Admail 3735, London, EC1B 1JB by June 30, or visit www.unitedpress.co.uk

Help call for hedgehogs

HEDGEHOGS are emerging from hibernation and need help, a wildlife charity has warned.

The British Hedgehog Preservation Society – which boasts Ben Fogle and Ann Widdecombe as two of its patrons – has told Haverhill residents that the creatures are in need of food and water to replenish their reserves in time for breeding season.

A spokesman said: "Offering meat based pet food and fresh water will help them at the same time as encouraging them into your garden."

"Please take care when tidying up your garden from winter as many hedgehogs suffer terrible injuries every year from strimmers, garden forks and fires." For more information visit www.britishhedgehogs.org.uk or call (01584) 890 801.

Partnership tops off 'great' first year

A COUPLE from Haverhill have celebrated their first anniversary as owners of a lawnmower and garden equipment repair company by forming a partnership with a nationwide giant.

After overcoming a series of sales, quality and service tests, David and Jackie Dockerill, of White Caville, in Haverhill are now the first dealership in the Cambridge area to work with the Mountfield machinery company.

The couple bought Gog Magog Mower Services in Copley Hill Business Park, just off the A1307 near Abingdon, last year.

David, who has more than 20 years experience in the mower repair trade, said:

"It's been a very good first year for us, particularly in the current climate and becoming a Mountfield dealership has been the icing on the cake really.

"People seem to like the personal service that we can offer here. We are small and friendly but have a lot of experience in servicing garden machinery."

Anne Jones, who is responsible for distributing Mountfield lawnmowers and garden equipment across the UK, said: "We are delighted to appoint David and Jackie as our dealers for Cambridge."

'I don't expect a miracle . . . I just want a bit more of my life'

'At the moment the cancer doesn't seem to be slowing down. I've kind of got my hopes pinned on the alternative treatments but I know there's no cure, I don't expect a miracle'
— Leanne Gray

LAST summer, Leanne Gray's life was just beginning. She and her boyfriend Greg had moved into their first home together, she loved her job, and the couple were planning to start a family the following year. It was perfect. But then her world fell apart when she was given the devastating news that the cancer, which she had fought off twice already, had returned and this time it was terminal. In December 2005, Leanne was enjoying a night out with friends in Cambridge when she noticed a small lump under her left earlobe. "I felt this little lump and I was quite freaked out by it," she recalls. An appointment with her GP revealed that Leanne had an ear infection, but when it didn't clear up after a couple of weeks, she was referred to the Ear, Nose and Throat (ENT) Clinic at Addenbrooke's. "There was a 10-week wait for an appointment and by the time I got to see them in April it had already grown quite a bit. They did tests and the biopsy came back as it being a benign tumour." Leanne was told she would need an operation to remove the tumour and in June had an appointment with a consultant. "I was very concerned as the tumour seemed to be growing quite rapidly, but I was told they would contact me... I just had to wait for an appointment." Leanne got on with her day-to-day life but the pain the tumour was causing worsened. "In August it started to get really quite bad so I was put on some stronger painkillers," she says. "I could tell it had started growing as well, it was humongous. My whole earlobe was turned upwards, it was growing out of the side of my face. I had no jaw line because it had grown out of my jaw. It was a hard lump and I was very embarrassed and conscious of it." The operation was finally booked for November. Two weeks before, Leanne met with a registrar who was surprised by the size of the tumour. "He asked to see my CT scan but I told him I'd never had one. They tried to rush through a CT scan and another biopsy before the operation but I couldn't handle another biopsy because my face was so painful, I couldn't cope with it, it was too traumatic." It took four and half hours to remove the 5cm tumour from the side of Leanne's face. "It had grown into a little space in my skull so the operation was more complicated than they thought it was going to be," she explains. "When I came around I felt like I'd been run over by a truck. It looked like someone had dug a bit out of my face with a spoon." The following month Leanne returned to Addenbrooke's to get the results of the operation, which revealed her worst nightmare, the tumour was malignant. "My mum was with me and she was just absolutely devastated," she remembers. "They said they had removed the tumour but because of its location they couldn't get proper clearance around it and radiotherapy would be best for me to be certain they had got all of the cells." Leanne received radiotherapy every day for six weeks. Despite experiencing horrible side effects, including burnt skin on her left cheek, a sore throat, dry mouth and ulcerated gums, she still went to work everyday, determined not to let the disease affect her life anymore than it already had. "My hair fell out underneath along the back of my head but I didn't realise until I saw my reflection in H&M one day," she says. "I was looking in the mirror and behind me was one of those mirrors you can tilt to see the back view. I just lobbed the clothes and ran home. I showed my mum and said 'look what's happened to me'." Following the radiotherapy Leanne tried to get her life back to normal. But then almost three years to the day she had noticed the lump, she felt a second lump in her left cheek. "I thought everything was hunky dory," she smiles. "I was told there was just a 0.2 per cent chance it would ever return." Leanne endured a second operation to remove the 1cm lump, and once again, began putting her life back. But in February last year, she discovered another small lump. "I check the area every day and it just felt like a little bit of hard skin," she says. "The hospital checked me over and thought it was scar tissue but booked me in for a check-up." Leanne accepted the opinion but became alarmed when her left eyelid grew swollen and puffy. "I mentioned it at the next appointment but I was told it was probably just an allergy. He said to me it wouldn't be related but if it was still bothering me in a couple of weeks to go to my GP."

Growing more and more concerned Leanne made an appointment. The day before, she started to experience blurred vision. She was referred to the Eye Clinic at Addenbrooke's for the following day. "I had my eyes tested and although my vision was good, there was a restriction on the eye. They thought it would sort itself out, so I was told to leave it for two weeks and they would have another look." At the second appointment Leanne was referred for an MRI scan, to take place in May. "The scan was on a Friday and I was due to go back the following Friday to get my results but on the Wednesday I actually had my normal check-up at ENT," she says. "I remember thinking I'm going to have to tell them about my visit to the eye clinic, I believed my eye problem was completely unrelated to the cancer – Greg and I had both asked them more than once. They seemed sure it was just a muscle problem so I was just thinking it was a normal check-up." Leanne's consultant had the results of the MRI scan, showing two swellings inside her head, which they believed were related to the cancer. "I couldn't believe what I was hearing. Greg and I had just moved in together, we were supposed to be starting our family this year, we had our plan. I was so upset. I didn't have anyone with me, I hadn't even considered that was going to happen." A further biopsy confirmed the two growths – 4cm and 2cm – were malignant, and the cancer had developed to secondary salivary gland cancer, which had spread to the base of her skull, sinus, lymph gland and scalp. Because of their location, they can't be removed. In June last year Leanne was given the shattering prognosis that she has just six to 12 months to live. Remembering that day is extremely painful. "You know when you suddenly get scared all over and you start to shake inside and that kind of thing?" she says, giving into tears. "I've told people so many times but it still makes me upset." Sitting in her home at Orchard Park, Cambridge, Leanne admits that for the first couple of months she felt very bitter and didn't know how to cope. "I didn't want to believe it. I was very much 'I'm going to die, there's no point me buying anything for myself... there's no point us planning anything, I'm not going to be here for Christmas'. But then I went from that to really wanting to sort it out and I thought maybe I am going to get through this, the stupid cancer will just sit in my head and do nothing." Celebrating Christmas with her family was a milestone Leanne admits she didn't think she was going to reach, and she has found comfort from raw food expert Polly Noble, who herself is fighting secondary cervical cancer, who, by switching to a raw food only diet, has reduced a tumour by 1mm. Despite living with a range of symptoms – her left eye doesn't move, her jaw regularly seizes, frequent headaches, a numb mouth and pins and needles across the left hand side of her face – Leanne describes her cancer as "manageable" and is hoping to begin an alternative treatment called Vitamin C Therapy. "I've got a consultation next week at a clinic which does Vitamin C therapy and hyperthermia treatment. I'm looking into alternative things, fingers crossed something will work." Leanne is also considering a clinical trial in Australia and to help raise funds for any alternative treatment available, her friends and family have organised a sponsored walk taking place on Saturday. "There are going to be two walks, one starting in Cambridge and one starting in Whittlesey," she explains. "My aunt organised it and lots of people are getting involved. The two groups will meet up in the middle and then either walk back or finish there." For now, newly-engaged Leanne – who says she hasn't given up on having children – continues to take each day as it comes and is positive about the benefits of a healthy diet and the possibility of alternative therapies. "For me it's just trying to add some more time on to my life. At the moment the cancer doesn't seem to be slowing down. I've kind of got my hopes pinned on the alternative treatments but I know there's no cure, I don't expect a miracle. "I just want to be able to have a bit more of my life, to be honest." ■ For more information about the sponsored walk, visit: www.facebook.com/notes/leanne-marie-gray/sponsored-walk-2nd-april-2011/10150153647451002 ■ To donate, visit: www.justgiving.com/Leanne-Gray

Onto a winner: girls from Samuel Ward Academy, with teacher Stacey Spiers, have made it through to the County Cup championships.

Girls' football teams win through to finals

TWO schoolgirls teams are through the final of the Suffolk Cup.

Both the under-14s and under-16s teams at Samuel Ward Academy, in Haverhill, have reached the finals of the County Cup, which will be played in April.

The under-14s reached their final by beating Felixstowe's Deben High School 2-1 in a hard-fought match at Haverhill Rovers, thanks to a brace of goals from Julie Brown.

And the goal-crazy under-16s reached their final by beating Bury's County Upper School 5-1, with two goals each from Julie Brown, Stacey Roper and one from Chloe Ellis.

They will now play Stowmarket Upper School in the final and the under-14s will meet Coppleston High School, from Ipswich.

Team coach Stacey Spiers said: "This is well deserved by all the girls involved who played high quality football against a range of teams from across the county.

"This is a fantastic achievement for all the girls and we are all looking forward to the finals."

Gathering focuses on skills and charity work

MEMBERS of Haverhill Owls Women's Institute were given a talk by representatives of a local charity, and took part in a craft workshop at their March meeting.

Two volunteers from St Nicholas Hospice Care, a charity in Bury St Edmunds that provides a special service for people with terminal illnesses and their families, spoke about the Hospice Neighbours scheme, which encourages volunteers to give practical support and compassion to families living with serious illness.

Members attending the March 16 meeting were then treated to a hands-on crafts session, where new skills were taught by Women's Institute adviser for Suffolk West, Chris Thompson.

Mrs Thompson showed participants how to make a variety of ladies' flower brooches and hairclips from ribbons, silk and lace, in varying colours and textures.

Pauline Essah, who has been a member of Haverhill Owls since it formed in October last year, said: "It was a very successful evening.

"The women were genuinely very interested in what the St Nicholas Hospice representatives had to say and asked several questions.

"And the camaraderie witnessed during the craft session was great to see, for a group that was formed just a few months ago."

For more information about the Haverhill Owls Women's Institute, call Elaine on (01440) 761225.

All women in the Haverhill area can attend meetings on the third Wednesday of each month at 7.30pm in the Studio at Haverhill Arts Centre in High Street.

A classic tale of infatuation

The classic tale of burning desire and forbidden love, Lady Chatterley's Lover, comes to Haverhill Arts Centre next month.

D.H. Lawrence's work has been adapted for the stage by Hull Truck Theatre Company and will take to the stage on Thursday, April 21.

Writer and director Nick Lane's adaptation is tender and sensual without being overtly sexual, and remains true to the original style that makes Lady Chatterley's Lover a timeless classic.

Lane said: "The thing for me about the novel which often gets forgotten is that the story covers far more than simple physical love. We have themes of political change, the rising of the working classes, the desire for escape as well as, above all, a tender and beautiful love story."

When originally published in 1928, Lady Chatterley's Lover suffered censorship and scandal that would not be lifted until the Penguin trial of 1960, when a verdict of not guilty allowed the full version of the text to be published and paved the way to a greater literary freedom in the UK.

Lawrence's novel is now considered a 20th century classic – a tale of infatuation, the overcoming of adversity and deciding one's own fate.

For this production, Amie Burns Walker is the disenchanted lady. Her on-stage husband, Sir Clifford Chatterley, is played by Frazer Hammill, who recently played Edgar in Hull Truck's adaptation of Wuthering Heights.

Performing as the lover is Karl Haynes, a prolific actor on stage and screen. Hull Truck Theatre Company is renowned for productions such as Teechers and Beef.

The performance, which contains strong language and adult scenes, is suitable for ages 15 and over and starts at 7.30pm.

Tickets are £10 and £9 concessions.

To book, call the arts centre box office (01440) 714140 or go to the website www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk

This woman was once the face behind the news...

...in fact Sunita worked for her Grandfather at their newsagency in the North of England. From 6am to 6pm, 7 days a week she could be found behind the counter where she always kept a warm welcome for the local and regular customers. More recently though, her Grandfather suffered a serious motoring accident and the shop was forced to close. Out of work Sunita struggled to make ends meet while she nursed her Grandfather. That was when an ex-customer notified NewstrAid who quickly stepped in to help.

on stage at arts centre

SAMUEL Ward Academy students showcase their talents in Stars In Their Eyes at Haverhill Arts Centre tonight. From hip hop to musicals, and rock to punk, students from Years 9 to 13 will shine from 7.30pm onwards.

■ The UK's most hard-working Thin Lizzy tribute band, Limehouse Lizzy, return to the arts centre with their Spirit of the Black Rose tour on Saturday. With an electrical performance of Phil Lynott's live tracks as well as classic album songs, this will be a night to remember. Get rockin' from 8pm.

■ Two-time winners of the BBC Radio 2 Folk Award for Best Duo, John Spiers and Jon Boden, will be loud and proud when they visit the arts centre on Sunday at 8pm.

With just a handful of acoustic instruments, they will perform a host of traditional stories and dance music.

■ On the cinema front, Best Actress Oscar winner Natalie Portman stars as a New York ballerina in Black Swan (15). It screens on Tuesday and Thursday, April 7 at 7.45pm. Spanish film Biutiful (15) is a love story between a father and his children amidst the dangerous underworld of contemporary Barcelona. It's on the big screen on Wednesday at 7.45pm, with English subtitles.

Dream turns sour in Shakespeare classic

DIRECTED by former Christ's College student and joint artistic director at The Gate Theatre Natalie Abrahami, this bold re-imagining of A Midsummer Night's Dream sets Shakespeare's best-loved comedy in a 1960s' film studio where a Hollywood epic is in the making.

Hippolyta's turbulent off-camera affair with her co-star Theseus is fast becoming the love-hate relationship of the century – and it's not the only romance to have blossomed on set. Tempers fray, and filming is almost complete. Using video, movement and music, this vivid new production explores the magic of the classic comedy in a new setting and asks whether love, like beauty, is really only in the eye of the beholder.

Using Shakespeare's original text and a dazzling array of costumes and props, A Midsummer Night's Dream follows Headlong's critically-acclaimed production of King Lear and the multi-award winning ENRON (West End, Broadway, UK tour).

Join the cast for a magical, multi-media journey into Shakespeare's immortal world of love and illusion, trickery and fun.

■ A Midsummer Night's Dream, Cambridge Arts Theatre, until April 2, 7.45pm. Tickets start at £15. Contact (01223) 503333/www.cambridgearts-theatre.com.

Not like all the others...

FOLLOWING great success at the 2010 Edinburgh Fringe, Caroline Horton's critically acclaimed show, You're Not Like The Other Girls Chrissy, is touring up and down the country this spring.

In 2002, Caroline's French grandmother, Christiane, moved into sheltered housing. Amongst a lifetime of clutter, Caroline found a shoebox containing Christiane's wartime letters. Over several years, she pieced together her grandmother's story and their conversations about her youth, her romance with a tongue-tied English teacher from Staffordshire and her memories of occupied France.

This touching true story is brought to life on stage to present a fond, comical and poignant portrait of one woman's experience of love and war; from a chance encounter at Cheadle tennis club to cosmopolitan 1930s Paris to the couple's inevitable separation by war.

■ You're Not Like The Other Girls Chrissy, The Junction, Cambridge, tomorrow at 8pm. Tickets are £8 (£5 concessions) from (01223) 511511 / www.junction.co.uk

The big film

certificate 15 104m

THE drugs do work in Neil Burger's visually arresting morality tale, set on the bustling streets of New York. However, narcotic nirvana comes at a price.

According to popular myth, humans only use 10 to 20 per cent of their total brain power – a startling statistic without any grounding in scientific fact.

Imagine the huge leaps and bounds that could be achieved in science and the arts if we could somehow energise those supposedly dormant synapses.

The answers to the universe's great mysteries could be resolved in the blink of an eye.

Alan Glynn's debut novel, The Dark Fields, invented a fictitious wonder drug that could do just that – reboot the brain – and imagined the repercussions for an avaricious modern society.

Screenwriter Leslie Dixon adapts the book to the big screen as an (im)morality tale about a struggling writer, who has the whole world in his hands and selfishly squanders this gift to indulge in the excesses of 21st century life. Eddie Morra (Bradley Cooper) has been wrestling with writer's block for weeks and now his girlfriend Lindy (Abbie Cornish) has finally given up on him.

At his lowest ebb, Eddie meets his former brother-in-law, Vernon (Johnny Whitworth), who furnishes the struggling writer with a wonder pill called NZT, which reportedly increased brain activity and unleashes untapped creativity.

Eddie swallows the clear pill and the next morning, he discovers he has churned out the first 40 pages of his magnum opus.

As Eddie becomes addicted to the medication, he metamorphoses from hopeless bum into a suave, ultra-confident and charming man about town, winning back Lindy and earning the respect of powerful Wall Street mogul, Carl Van Loon (Robert De Niro).

However, Eddie's supply of pills is finite and in order to continue his meteoric rise, he must acquire a new stash.

Limitless is stylishly crafted by director Burger, who employs some nifty visual trickery to replicate the hallucinogenic side effects of NZT as it opens Eddie's mind to a world of thrilling possibilities.

Pick your perfect garden gift

FLORISTS may be busy in the run-up to Mother's Day, but with a little forethought you can buy your mum a present which will last much longer than a bouquet of flowers.

Garden centres, nurseries and online retailers are awash with Mother's Day gifts, from soft-handled secateurs to pretty kneeling cushions, pampering hand creams and muscle-relaxing bath salts, plus a host of ornaments to remind her of you.

Even those on the tightest budget can bag a gift which will give pleasure for years to come. Pop into Poundland and pick up a shrub or fruit bush for just a quid, ranging from roses and escallonnias to blueberries and potentillas.

There's still time to sow some seeds, but if you want to give them as a gift, The Balcony Gardener has just launched a range of beautifully packaged seeds including chilli, spring onion, basil, chives, mint, carrots and others, which come in lovely packets. The seeds can all be grown in garden boxes, pots or large containers on the smallest of patios or roof terraces (£3.25 a packet, www.thebalconygardener.com, 020 7431 5553).

A plethora of garden ornaments are on offer, but among the prettiest are some stainless steel dragonflies (£15.95 each) from Home2Garden, each which comes on a 50cm spring

by Hannah Stephenson

wire, as well as an unusual frost-proof rainbow glass bird bath at £34.99. (For details go to www.home2garden.co.uk or call 01923 492 947)

Keen vegetable growers may want to extend their repertoire to more unusual veg, so why not buy your mother something she hasn't grown before, such as mushrooms? You can buy a white button mushroom kit, which will also be easy to gift wrap, which has everything you need to grow mushrooms and could boost confidence to grow other, more difficult veg. (£5.99, www.greenfingers.com, 0845 345 0728)

Gardeners can never have too many gloves, but the Showa Floreo 370 lightweight nylon glove takes some beating. With a nitrile-coated palm, it keeps your hand protected while being thin enough to perform intricate tasks in the garden, including potting, seedling work, pricking out, tying up plants and weeding. Available in a range of bright colours. (£6.99, M Store, www.mstore.co.uk, 0845 370 1045)

Create a wow factor by filling a handsome willow planter with trailing flowers within an elegant stand. It makes a fabulous free-standing addition to a patio or creates a focal point in bed or border. (£42.99, Lakeland, www.lakeland.co.uk or phone 01539 488 100)

If your mum loves clipping hedges or creating perfectly shaped balls or pyramids out of evergreen shrubs, soft pink topiary and trimming shears from Burdon & Ball give her a stylish way to do it. Hand forged in Sheffield with soft pink handles, they come in an attractive co-ordinating gift box. (£19.95, Burdon & Ball, www.burdonandball.com)

Perhaps a cup of tea is required after a heavy day in the garden, so her ideal gift would be a stylish Tisaniere tea set and lemon verbena plant, which will form the ingredient for a delicious herbal tea. As well as the tea pot and lemon verbena plant, the gift set comes with a packet of mint seeds, which when grown can also make a zesty herb tea, a metal plant label and instructions on how to grow the seeds, as well as a booklet that contains other herb tea recipes. (£24.99, www.crocus.co.uk)

Instead of a throwaway bouquet, why not spoil your mum with something that she can enjoy year in year out?

Buy something original like an almond tree, one of a range available from Focus DIY (£19.99, Focus DIY stores nationwide, or visit www.focusdiy.co.uk)

As day turns to night, create a romantic or relaxing mood with some new porcelain solar lamps with a leafy pattern, ideal on tables at elegant parties or relaxed patio get-togethers (£14.99 each, Lakeland, www.lakeland.co.uk or call 01539 488 100)

For a more personalised gift, have a special message put on to a lovely pineapple crate planter which can be used for planting up bright and cheerful blooms or simply used as a novelty hamper for other gifts or a storage solution for indoors. (£39.99, www.gettingpersonal.co.uk)

IDEAL GIFTS: brighten up your mum's day, and her garden, with metal ornaments or an almond tree.

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- ☐ Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Confirm all arrangements, times etc, for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- ☐ Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- ☐ Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Send off change of address cards.
- ☐ Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- ☐ Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- ☐ Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- ☐ Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- ☐ Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- ☐ Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.
- ☐ Check through previous lists to make sure nothing has been overlooked, then enjoy a worry-free early night!

2 ON MOVING DAY:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Pack items for washing/toiletries.
- ☐ Take down curtains.
- ☐ Take up rugs, carpets, floor coverings, as required.
- ☐ Dismantle any light fittings etc., not included in the sale.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler/central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Leave key as arranged with new owners.
- ☐ On arrival at your new home, unpack slowly and methodically so that you can check for loss or damage.

3 EXTRA HINTS FOR A SMOOTH MOVE...

WHO TO NOTIFY:

- ☐ Banks.
- ☐ Building Societies.
- ☐ Credit companies.
- ☐ Insurance companies.
- ☐ Gas, Electricity and Water Boards.
- ☐ Telephone company.
- ☐ Local Authority (Rating Department).
- ☐ Driving Licence authorities.
- ☐ Inland Revenue.
- ☐ Store cards and accounts.
- ☐ Other lease, hire or rental companies.
- ☐ Employer.
- ☐ Doctor.
- ☐ Dentist.
- ☐ Schools.
- ☐ Professional Bodies/Trade Unions.
- ☐ Motoring organisations.
- ☐ Newsagent.
- ☐ Friends and relatives.

Dear Bychoice

I just wanted to write and say a massive thank you for all your hard work (and mainly for your patience!) whilst we've been sorting out the sale of the property.

The customer service we received from day one with Bychoice has been second to none, and we have used every Estate Agents in Sudbury so can make a good comparison.

Then the after sales service from yourself has been fantastic. It's been a rollercoaster ride with all we've been through, but I felt confident every time I spoke to you and I'm sure the vendor has had the same experience. You've been extremely supportive and have kept us strong, now we have the perfect house for our first home together and we can't wait to move in.

Thanks again, for everything!

Joe and Sam

Orlando ahoy!

Buckingham & Stanley take on Chevy marque

BUCKINGHAM & STANLEY, who own the well-known Harston-based dealership Cambridge Saab, has taken on the Chevrolet franchise for the region.

The firm is currently renovating its site at Shelford Road, Trumpington, to house the new marque, with the full range of Chevrolet vehicles going on sale on April 11 and a formal opening event set to take place in May.

Luke Gordon, has been with the company for 14 years, and will manage the Chevrolet range, backed up by the 20-strong sales and service team at Buckingham and Stanley.

Luke said: "We are really

The Chevrolet Spark: Base car tagged at £6,999.

pleased to welcome the Chevrolet brand. Buckingham and Stanley have been around for 50 years now, and being able to add another trusted brand to our business is great news.

"The Chevrolet range has something for everyone, and we can't wait to offer our customers a test drive – find us on Twitter for more news and updates @cambs_chevrolet."

The US brand has a number of vehicles ready to go on sale in Cambridge, including the Orlando (pictured above), Captiva, Aveo and Spark. The Spark is an entry-level city car which includes aircon and will go on sale for £6,999, thereby ensuring that Buckingham & Stanley is able to offer customers a "family value" proposition alongside the established – and more upscale – Saab range.

For more about the Chevrolet range at Buckingham and Stanley call (01223) 873449 or alternatively email info@cambridgechevrolet.co.uk.

Peugeot 207 is Europe's most reliable car – Warranty Direct WARRANTY Direct has revealed that the most reliable car made by a European car company is the Peugeot 207.

Warranty Direct, the first direct consumer warranty company to operate in the UK, analysed more than 20,000 live policies on three to seven year old cars made by European manufacturers.

The Warranty Direct survey reveals that owners experiencing just a six per cent repair rate in an average year. That compares well with the runner-up, the Fiat Panda, which showed a 14 per cent rate.

And the 207's victory was not a solo effort either; it was accompanied by two other Peugeots in the survey's top ten most reliable European cars; the 206 CC in third and the 107 at ninth.

To measure a car's overall reliability and running costs, Warranty Direct's Reliability Index reviews rates of failure, average mileage, age and repair cost to calculate its rating for the reliability Index.

The Peugeot 207: Six per cent repair rate in an average year.

DRIVE VAUXHALL FOR THE BEST DEALS AND BIGGEST SAVINGS

Let the biking season begin!

FINALLY, after what seems like an eternity, the sunshine is beating down hard on to the tarmac surrounding Cambridge, writes Bernard Adams of CAM Rider.

This brings a hibernating species out of their caves – OK garages – and back on to the A roads. I'm talking, of course, about bikers. You can now regularly see the grinning faces beaming out from inside our helmets as we zoom past the traffic queues admiring the daffodils along the way.

There are a lot of biking events in the pipeline for the new season and a few special offers from bike-related firms. Here's a lowdown on what's due in the next few weeks alone.

April 3: Wootton Bassett Ride of Respect. Thousands of bikers are expected to take part in a mass ride through Wootton Bassett in Wiltshire on Mother's Day to pay honour to the soldiers wounded or who have lost their lives in Afghanistan.

Sun comes out, daffs grown ... bikers set off

The event organisers expect more than 25,000 bikers to ride through the newly bestowed Royal Wootton Bassett in order to present funds raised for the Afghan Heroes charity set up in 2009 by mothers who lost their sons in Afghanistan. All proceeds raised will go to the Afghan Heroes charity. www.rideofrespect.co.uk

April 1 to 4: MCN Live.

Aimed at the more dedicated two-wheel petrol head, this event is held in the Skegness Butlins taking advantage of the off season prices.

A big line-up of attractions, bands every night, on-site accommodation and lots of beer; a heady biker fest. Take aspirin and ear plugs. www.mcnlive.co.uk

May 16: BMF show Peterborough.

Here you can see everything from "The wall of death", immortalised last year on the tagging credits for BBC1, right through to mini-electric motorbike rides for the kids in the family area. Advance tickets are £14 and kids under 16 go free.

More at www.thebmfshow.co.uk/

Of course, the flip side to all this sunshine coming out is that it's harder to grab a bargain.

If you dig about though you can still find the tail end of winter special offers or some recession-busting sales to separate you from your cash.

Allins is still offering special deals on a Yamaha XT660R. Haywards Motorcycles has a new range of demonstrators and has on offer a butched-up Zip 50 moped with protection bars and crash lugs. We can thoroughly recommend these at CAM Rider as we have bought a dozen!

Hideout leathers is still offering a bespoke suit making and alteration service and here at CAM Rider you can see our Easter offers of £199 for a three-session DAS introduction course, also a free lesson offer on six-session courses and also a £60 discount voucher!

CAM Rider runs various ride-outs over the summer and lists other events provided to us by show organisers. Find CAM Rider on Facebook and ask to be a friend. If you are a show organiser or if you have a biker event planned then get in touch and we can get it listed. Otherwise email information@camrider.com and make it for the attention of Bern.

With that I'll let you get out onto the roads for some early summer biking, but should you need any assistance here's a list of useful local biker links for dealers and trainers:

Volkswagen's Polo gets a price revamp

VOLKSWAGEN'S award-winning Polo has always offered superb value for money. And until April 14 there's an even greater deal for customers, with £500 off, competitive finance packages, three years' free servicing and free insurance.

As an example, the entry-level Polo S 1.2-litre 60 PS three-door model costs just £9,495, including £500 off. One year's free insurance is also included for drivers over 21 years of age, completing an impressive package for customers. This offer applies to all Polo models purchased from stock through a Volkswagen UK retailer and registered before April 14. If a customer chooses an alternative funding method, the standalone servicing package is available for £299.

The latest and fifth generation Polo was launched in October 2009. It was named "European Car of the Year 2010", and in April, added the accolade of "World Car of the Year 2010" to its name. Volkswagen UK sold 45,282 Polos last year, making 2010 the car's best-selling year since 2003.

C-Max and Grand C-Max star at Fleet News bash

THE Ford C-Max and Grand C-Max were voted "New Company Car of the Year 2011" as well as "Best People Carrier" at the Fleet News Awards.

Fleet News' panel of industry judges said: "The new Ford C-Max and Grand C-Max stand out thanks to clever and flexible seating and sliding rear passenger doors in a highly competitive sector with a range of new entrants."

Cars were judged on a range of criteria, including operating costs (depreciation, fuel, servicing, maintenance and repair etc) and suitability for their use as business cars. The "New Company Car of the Year" accolade was decided by fleet operator readers of Fleet News.

A similar criteria was

used by Parkers who, on the basis of list price combined with running costs, recently announced Ford C-Max 1.6 TDCi Titanium as the multi-purpose vehicle winner when determining the "cars that makes your cash go further".

On sale since November, the five-seat C-Max and the seven-seat Grand C-Max have recently been joined by the all-new Ford Focus. Together they provide customers with a wide choice of stylish medium sized vehicles to suit differing needs.

Prices start at £17,195 for the C-Max and £19,195 for the Grand C-Max, and all boast the maximum five-star safety rating from Euro-NCAP and have Thatcham Category 1 alarm, DAB radio, Bluetooth and USB connectivity as standard.

BOSCH
Invented for life

Join a successful team

Bosch Lawn and Garden is an innovative, dynamic and growing business in Europe and overseas, making it the innovation leader of garden products for the Bosch brand. A major German multinational, Bosch is a massive brand across all consumer durable categories.

Here at Bosch, we have a range of exciting opportunities available. We are searching for talented people to fulfil the needs of various roles. If you are seeking a new and exciting career, have previous relevant experience and would like the opportunity to work for Bosch, our list of available vacancies is as follows:

Product Development Engineer

Reporting to the Senior Engineer, you will be responsible for all the functional aspects of new and existing products in a section of the company's product range. Your skills will ensure we are able to bring the innovations to our product range that meet our customers' needs and keep products at the forefront of the market. As part of our product introduction team, we can offer you the opportunity to design and engineer all aspects of our products, from market concept to product launch and support, once in production.

The ideal candidate will hold a degree or an equivalent qualification in a technical or mechanical engineering discipline and have experience in design and/or development relevant to high-volume consumer products. You will have previous experience of using 3D CAD packages, good written and oral communication and presentation skills and will be PC literate. You will be methodical, practical and a motivated team player.

Product Manager

Within this role you will be expected to research and interpret the needs of customers in close liaison with market research, country sales organisations and the country management department. You will develop product and marketing concepts and agree strategies that provide maximum business growth and profitability. Working as part of a flexible team, you will be responsible for the strategic development of a product group, including accessories, from understanding consumer needs, developing the product concept and design and price positioning and packaging through to completion and successful launch into the market. You will also manage the turnover and profit development of your product segments.

The ideal candidate will be educated to degree level in a marketing discipline or equivalent and be fluent in English and, ideally, another European language. Substantial marketing and product management experience within an 'A' brand that has included customer contact is required. You will have the desire to drive your area of business through regular overseas travel will also be creative, confident, and possess a very strong analytical and logical mindset. You will have excellent communications, presentation and IT skills with a flexible and dedicated approach to work.

Logistics Continuous Improvement Manager

Your role will be to develop, drive and implement lean continuous improvement initiatives and projects across the supply chain function whilst ensuring cost and service level targets are achieved. As a specialist in the supply chain field, you will analyse the supply chain performance data and develop working practices that improve performance while ensuring that we are able to respond to seasonal variations.

The ideal candidate will hold a degree or an equivalent qualification in business management or a related subject and have previous experience within a busy supply chain, including sales and logistical planning. Excellent PC experience and knowledge of mathematical systems modelling is required. You will have the ability to identify and drive 'best practice' techniques and instinctively possess a positive, proactive and inquisitive mindset and be prepared to challenge existing practices.

Distribution Management Team Leader

As the Team Leader you will have responsibility for the leadership and development of the distribution management team in both the day-to-day and strategic activities while managing your own country-specific activities. Working closely with the sales team you will manage the targets at individual country level and across the supply chain. You will also act as a representative for the Distribution Management team in projects and initiatives both at Bosch Power Tools and Bosch Lawn and Garden levels.

The ideal candidate will hold a degree or an equivalent qualification in a business management or related subject and be PC literate with a good standard of MS Office, especially Excel. With experience of successfully developing and leading a team, you will possess a positive and proactive mindset that drives excellence whilst ensuring high levels of service are achieved. You will have previous experience within a busy supply chain, which will include sales and logistical planning.

Milestone for Allan

LOUISE Allan brought up a half-century of winners when she won the AGA Ladies' Open Championship qualifier at Horseheath. It was a fitting victory for Allan at the Puckeridge Hunt meeting – she was the cover star when she was featured in Welcome Home, a publication produced by AGA to mark its sponsorship during the 2010-11 season. Allan had her 49th winner, on Sud Nivernais, 35 minutes earlier, and like King Du Berlais, who made it 50 winners, it is owned by Joe Turner – one of the most successful point-to-point owners in history.

>> Football: Youth league round-up

It's Burr-illiant!

Huntingdon Rowdies 2 West Wrating 8

Cambridge and District Colts League, under-14B MITCH Burr smashed five goals as West Wrating sportingly played with 10 men to match their depleted hosts.

Burr's strength and pace earned him two individual goals as he struck four times before the break, with Rory Jebb and an own goal completing a 6-2 scoreline at the turn-around.

A well-taken penalty from Scott Ankers and a long-range thunderbolt from Burr completed the scoring, although Lewis Massie hit the woodwork and the home side's keeper did much to keep the score down.

Histon Hornets 2 Kedington 2

Cambridge and District Colts League, under-13C SKIPPER Jason Moore salvaged a point from the top-of-the-table game where Kedington, the side with the meanest defence, took on the side who had scored the most goals.

Histon broke the stalemate midway through the first half, but although Tye Alleyne hit the crossbar, Kedington did not equalise until the second half when the Histon keeper spilled Ellis Wiffen's shot and Cameron Larkin pounced on the rebound.

Histon added a second on the break and looked as if they had done enough to take the points until Moore smashed in the late leveller.

Haverhill Rovers 3 Bluntisham Blasters 1

Cambridge and District Colts League, under-12C IN-FORM Blasters caught the backlash as Haverhill Rovers got the long-awaited chance to get a full-strength side out.

Chinomso Nkem-Paul made the most of Rovers' early pressure to open the scoring before the fast-breaking Blasters equalised against the run of play.

But, although they continued to dominate, Rovers could not polish off their rivals until the last 10 minutes when Charlier Stephens and Billy Jarvis struck.

Sutton Rangers 0 Aztecs 5

BM Kempton 9v9 League, under-12C AZTECS were in dominant form against the divisional leaders after Luke Wood bundled the ball home in the first minute.

Toby Goodship clipped the bar late in the half, and although there was no further score in the opening half, Aztecs reaped the fruits of their hard work in the second half.

Tom Cropper claimed a quick double, Wood added his second and Tyler Thurgood completed the scoring with a clever flick.

Newmarket Town B 4 Castle Camps 3

Cambridge and District Colts League, under-12A CAMPS counted themselves unlucky not to come away with a point from the seven-goal thriller against the table-toppers.

Morgan Jones gave them the lead against the run of play, but the weight of Newmarket's pressure eventually told and the home side were 3-1 ahead at the break.

That became 4-1 soon after the restart, but Camps refused to lie down, and as they battled back, Kane Robson and Brandon Westley scored to put them on the brink of a draw.

West Wrating 11 Steeple Bumpstead 0

Cambs Mini League, under-11B WRATTING shared the goals around as they put a gallant Steeple Bumpstead side to the sword.

They scored five times in the first half through Comer, Coleman, Cameron, Cordwell and an own goal.

And they made the most of looping crosses from the wing after the break with further goals from Cameron, Coleman, Holden (2), another own goal and Summers.

Priory Parkside C 1 Haverhill Rov 3

Cambridge and District Colts League, under-14D HAVERHILL Rovers' bid to beat the drop was given a boost by a vital away win.

George Culley struck twice in the first half to give Rovers the edge, although Priory were given a lifeline when they converted a penalty awarded for handball.

However, a last-minute header from Jordan Maynard – his first goal of the season – sealed the points.

West Wrating 3 Huntingdon Rowdies 0

Cambridge and District Colts League, Division 15A WEST Wrating completed their season with a solid win to move into third place.

Harry Willett was their man of the match, but he was pushed close by James Percy, who scored the only goal of the first half, and goalkeeper Jack Vernon, who made some superb stops.

The Reds exploded into life after the restart with a goal from Sam Clayton. Zak Ollington wrapped up the points.

Hills alive to goal chances

Heads, that's mine: West Wrattling's Luke Bennett (left) tries to reach a corner against Ely reserves SP0723037

DANNY Hills struck twice as West Wrattling ran out 3-0 winners at home to Ely reserves in the Kershaw League, Premier Division. Hills opened the scoring on 25 minutes, Luke Bennett netted on his debut 10 minutes later and Hills completed the scoring on 70 minutes. Wrattling manager Craig Fleming said: "They're quite a young side and it was a comfortable win for us." Craig Cutts equalised for bottom club

Hundon, but James Carmen's second of the game sealed a 2-1 for Over. But Rod Gaffan, the Hundon player-boss, said: "They weren't as good as I'd expected them to be, but we battled well and played well."

Kingham blow adds to agony

Wroxham 2 Haverhill Rovers 0 Ridgeons League, Premier Division HAVERHILL'S goal drought continued as they succumbed to the third-placed team on Saturday. The visitors fell behind after 10 minutes when a mistake by Stuart Wardley was punished, with a Wroxham player rounding goalkeeper Matt Morrison and tapping home. Morrison made a fine double save five minutes before half time, firstly tipping a close-range header on to the bar and then palming the follow-up to safety. Paul Abbott shot wide of the near post and Joe Harvey blazed over from 25 yards following a good run as Haverhill looked for a second-half equaliser. But after Stuart Kingham was taken off with a hamstring injury, Wroxham claimed their second. "I can probably count on one finger the number of mistakes Stuart Wardley has made since I've been here, but he gave the ball away for their first goal," said boss Peter Betts. "Our general performance was quite good and they didn't really trouble us. But Stuart Kingham's injury disrupted us and we don't know how long he'll be out for. "I thought their second goal was offside, but they took their chance. We've played a lot worse this year and won, but we're on a bad run at the moment. "Injuries have come at a bad time and we've dropped down to sixth. I don't want injuries to ruin our season and we want to make sure we stay in the top six. "We've been without Owen Paynter and Dalton O'Brien recently, and they're the strikers I brought in to get us goals this season. We've been relying on fringe players to do a job at the highest level of local football. "We've had a great season and we've got to stand up and be counted in the last month. We need to grind out some results." Haverhill get a swift chance to gain revenge when they have the return game against Wroxham at the New Croft on Saturday. They travel to Stanway on Wednesday.

TERRY Bishop, captain of the Haverhill club in 2008, guided his team to a narrow victory in the past captains event at Coupals Road. Backed by David Pipe, Murray McKenzie and Dan Wilkins, Bishop's four totalled 116 points to pip Peter Bowers, the 2007 captain whose side comprised Jim Walker, Graham Ashcroft and Josh Brown, by a point. Gerry Scott, captain in 1998, joined Mich Calmet, P McAllen and Lee Chandler to finish third on 110. Thirteen teams took part, each featuring a past captain, with Derek Pollitt, now a member at the Felixstowe club, returning to play 20 years after he held office. ■ Joe Davis and Lee Chandler were the winners of the Touchwood Cup, the men's winter foursomes knockout competition, beating Charlie Hudson and Paul Bartlett in the final. All square after 16 holes, the match hinged on a mistake at the 17th where Davis and Chandler went 1 up before winning the 18th to finish 2 up. Chandler then went on to win the winter mixed foursomes with ladies' vice-captain Doreen Darbey. They beat Simon and Sally Price 3&2. ■ Keith McCallum won the March IFF Challenge on count back, carding a nett 65 to edge out Ellis Woko and Martin Mansfield. As a result all three have had their handicaps reduced. Details - Division One: 1 Eric Kiddle 79-9-70, 2 Andy Fish 74-4-70, 3 Wayne Penman 83-12-71. Division Two: 1 Martin Mansfield 83-18-65, 2 Ernie Lloyd 83-15-68, 3 Nicky Weller 83-14-69. Division Three: 1 Keith McCallum 90-25-65, 2 Ellis Woko 89-24-65, 3 Peter Mercer 90-22-68. ■ With a superb round of 72-5-67, Craig Sisson came out top in the Rosebowl final, beating a field comprising all the monthly medal division winners during the 2010-11 season. Sisson, who has had his handicap trimmed to four, pipped Dan Wilkins (87-17-70) and Gerry Scott (76-5-71). ■ Haverhill made their exit from the prestigious Mail On Sunday tournament at The Essex club. Although the course was in good conditions, the Haverhill team foud the greens tricky and lost 4-1. Details (Haverhill players first): Lee Chandler lost Daniel Riley-Bourne 7&6, Bob Spittle bt Neil Anderson 4&3, David Pipe lost Ed Oldaker 3&2, Derek Thomas lost Mark Hanley 3&2, Eamonn Bareham lost Darren Grace 3&1. ■ Haverhill's ladies' section also lost 4-1 in the Weston Match at Rushmere, but host the return match on April 21. Details (Haverhill names first): Sue Carr lost Mary Pendle 3&4, Mary Sail lost Carol Perks 5&4, Karen Wilby lost June Kenworthy 5&4, Linda Bugg bt Adrienne Langston 4&2, Marion Kendle lost Maureen Farmer 6&4. ■ The senior section have made a mixed start to their inter-club season, losing at Newton Green 3½-4½, drawing 4-4 at home against Colne Valley, beating the Towerlands Mixed 4½-3½ and then easing in 6-2 at Coupals Road against Saffron Walden. ■ Sheila Playle and Robin Grapes have won the senior section's Bleasdale Cup. Other presentations were made afterwards with Doug Hardy (pictured) selected as the winner of the Roy Kernutt Achievement Award. Other trophies - The Mott Cup Men's Monday League: Keith McCallum. Ladies' Monday League: Ann Thompson.

■ The senior section have made a mixed start to their inter-club season, losing at Newton Green 3½-4½, drawing 4-4 at home against Colne Valley, beating the Towerlands Mixed 4½-3½ and then easing in 6-2 at Coupals Road against Saffron Walden.

Captain's marvels: David Pipe, Dan Wilkins, Murray McKenzie and Terry Bishop after their success in the past captains' event CP
